

Online Policy Briefing

The energy transition in the context of geopolitical developments

March 29th 2022, from 9:30am to 11:00am CEST

9:30am	Welcome & Introduction	Folmer de Haan, Chairman of the EEAC Working Group on Climate & Energy
09:35am	Impacts of the current energy crisis and an effective response that accelerates the energy transition	André Faaij, Director of Science TNO Energy transition and professor energy system analysis at Utrecht University and the University of Groningen
09:55am	Q and A Session with André Faaij
10:05am	Options Europe has to reduce dependency on third country fossil fuels, while safeguarding energy security and affordability	Luca Franza, scientific advisor IAI Energy, Climate and Resources Programme and Associate Fellow at the Clingendael International Energy Programme (CIEP)
10:25am	Q and A Session with Luca Franza
10:35am	can alternative - low carbon - energy sources fill the void of fossil fuels in our energy mix in the short (next 2,5 years) and mid (2,5 to 8 years) term without jeopardizing energy security or affordability?	Joint contribution by André Faaij and Luca Franza
10:55am	Wrap-up	